

4/17/2014

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter to recommend Jenny Palombit for the position in teaching art. Jenny worked with me at Musson Elementary in the spring semester of 2014 during her student teaching experience.

Jenny shows much strength in being prepared to enter the teaching field. She came into the experience with enthusiasm and a readiness to take over with great ideas to deliver the art curriculum. Jenny has a passion for art and teaching it to the students so that they too can feel the passion for the arts. She shows that she has mastered the different subject matter when teaching lessons and the medium that is being used in each lesson.

Jenny created lessons that were developmentally appropriate for each grade. They were well thought out; they included art history, the elements and principles of design, technology, and many examples (some of her own), which brought the students enthusiastically into the learning. Jenny carried herself in a professional manner. She arrived early and stayed late when needed. She took her time to prepare each lesson ahead of time. She made herself readily available for parent conferences and other school related activities. Jenny attended all professional development days that were available and participated with leadership. She communicated with other staff and was open and ready to create lessons that were cross-curricular.

Jenny eagerly accepted classroom management ideas from classroom teachers within our building and from other art teachers in the district. She also incorporated some of her own classroom management strategies to better the learning environment for all students.

It was joy to have Jenny in the classroom and it is my pleasure to recommend her. Please consider her for the available position.

Amy King
Art Teacher
Musson Elementary
3500 Dutton Rd.
Rochester MI 48306
248-726-4200